

HARD FESCUE

Sword II is a selection from Rutgers University encompassing two related nurseries. This selection provides superior seed handling characteristics, excellent seedling vigor and superior turf performance. Sword II is a leap in modern hard fescues where mowability and increased disease resistance are being taken to levels that hard fescue has not typically been thought of. Sword II is one of the darkest hard fescues on the market today. Sword II has excellent performance when mowed at fairway/tee height along with good traffic tolerance for fine fescues. Sword II also has good resistance to red thread, leaf spot and summer patch. This variety provides density during the growing season, excellent performance in shade and performs under low fertility.

Sword II hard fescue blends well with other fine fescues. It also mixes well with wildflowers and other cool season grasses like Kentucky bluegrass, tall fescue and perennial ryegrass.
